

Data Center Manager Learning Plan

The data center manager needs to have a high-level overview of the technologies being used within the datacenter, providing them with an appreciation of requirements when it comes to operational budgets.

Approximate number of training hours - 42

